Author & Mentor Rahkal Shelton Releases New book “Dreams Bigger Than Texas”

(Atlanta, GA)- Featured on major media platforms including WGN, 93.7 The Beat, N'DIGO & more, Rahkal Shelton's highly anticipated book “Dreams Bigger Than Texas” made its debut. After a plethora of support from fans including a Kickstarter campaign, Shelton has taken immeasurable steps to produce a masterpiece parallel to titles such as “The Coldest Winter Ever,” “The Wood” or even “The Pursuit of Happiness.” Dreams Bigger than Texas: A Story of Purpose, Perseverance and Growth Into Womanhood is an incredible autobiographical modern-day, coming-of-age, rose-from-concrete story.

"Born to a 19-year-old heroin- and cocaine-addicted mother, Rahkal “Dee” Shelton entered the cold South side of Chicago, second to the oldest of four. Consumed by despair, saturated in abuse and violence, and infested with social disease, she becomes accustomed to an environment predicted to produce a hopeless and confined being. Sleeping under carpet in freezing temperatures, being evicted and moving from state to state — Dee learns some of life’s hardest lessons at an early age."
